The East Brighton Trust owns and operates the Westergate Business Centre, a shop in Barcombe Road rented to the youth project Safe and Sorted, and a shop at Manor Hill rented out to the Green Centre. Both shops also have flats above let to key workers at affordable rents. A percentage of our profits from these buildings enables us to run grant programmes for community organisations in the East Brighton area. Since 2008 the Trust has given out a total of £80,058 in grant funding to local community groups.

FOREWORD BY COLIN SAYERS CHAIR EAST BRIGHTON TRUST

Welcome to the East Brighton Trust Update Report covering the period April 2008 – March 2010, this is our 1st report since our independence from the eb4u New Deal for Communities (NDC) programme in 2008. The East Brighton Trust is an independent not-for-profit company that was established to manage the assets acquired by the NDC programme; the profits generated from these assets are then used to benefit residents and communities in the East Brighton area.

The East Brighton Trust Board is a resident-led organisation which currently has 9 Directors, the majority of whom live in the Trust area. Our Directors have been elected/selected either as community representatives or bring expertise in strategic development required to maintain and grow the Trust, more information on each of the Trust Directors can be found on page 9 of this report. I myself was selected as a community representative in 2008 and I was honoured when my fellow Directors recently elected me to the position of Trust Board Chair

We manage a fairly small portfolio of office accommodation and business units at the Westergate Business Centre along with two shop units with flats above them. Our flats are rented out to key workers and the shop units are let out to local organisations. Our main aim is to generate income to benefit the communities of East Brighton and as a Board we take strategic decisions to ensure this is the case, whilst trying to be a reasonable landlord and helping our tenants to continue trading and therefore create local employment. The last couple of years have seen one of the worst economic downturns ever, but despite that we have continued to generate a profit. which in turn has allowed us to develop a number of grant programmes. Over the last 2 years, we have supported 75 grass-root community organisations (page 11), established 3-year Partnership Funding with the Whitehawk Inn and The Bridge (page 3), set-up a Bursary scheme at the Whitehawk Inn (page 10) and awarded Impact Grants to the 3 primary schools in the East Brighton Trust area (page 8). Overall, since April 2008, we have given away over £80,000 of our profits to support community groups and organisations in the East Brighton Trust area. As a result of our grant giving we have developed very good links with local organisations, both large and small, which will have a positive effect on many of the residents of East Brighton

We are continually looking at ways to grow the business which will hopefully create more employment in the area and provide us with more profit which will in turn allow us to give more away in grants.

Finally a plea to anyone who feels they could contribute to our Board as we are always looking for new blood, particularly if you are a resident of East Brighton. If you think you are the sort of person we are looking for, have a bit of time to spare and would like to do something voluntarily for the benefit of the community, get in touch.

WARREN CARTER CHAIR GRANTS COMMITTEE

This report is a snapshot of what the East Brighton Trust has been funding for the past couple of years. Without doubt, the best part of being a director of Trust is helping to fund the fantastic community organisations in this area with our small grants scheme. Since our first grants in July 2008 we have given out over £34,000 to 75 different groups.

The amount of groups in such a small area is staggering. We have funded everything from youth football teams, arts clubs, children's events, festivals, gardening clubs and trips out for older residents. These small voluntary groups and clubs are the lifeblood of any thriving community and East Brighton is blessed with a vast range of them.

Establishing and running a local charity myself for the past 15 years, I know all about the burden of paperwork so we keep our grant forms simple. The majority of the community groups we fund are run by unpaid volunteers and we want them to be able to get on with the work they set out to do. For monitoring we require a few paragraphs and if appropriate some photographic evidence. It's great to read the feedback and look at the photos and know that the work of the Trust is making a big difference to the area.

3-YEAR PARTNERSHIP FUNDING WHITEHAWK INN JOB DROP INN

This has been supported by a £5k bursary from East Brighton Trust in 2009-2010. The bursary has contributed to premises and consumable costs. In 2010-11 it plans to purchase some new display equipment for the Job Drop Inn resource area. Job Drop Inn is staffed by Rebecca and Julia, Gateway IAG advisors who work on a 1:1 basis with residents.

What Job Drop Inn provides:

- * Support to work on CVs, including advice and guidance about how best to present qualifications, skills and experience.

- * Access to free telephone to contact employers and request job packs and information.
- * Advice and guidance on completing applications and preparing for interviews.
- * Up to date labour market information and advice about potential career development opportunities.
- * Referral to agencies for in-work benefit checks.

A similar 3-year Partnership Funding programme has also been agreed with The Bridge in Moulsecoomb

SAFE AND SORTED Youth Advice Centre

The Safe and Sorted Youth Advice Centre is housed in the East Brighton Trust's building in Barcombe Road, Moulsecoomb. The Centre offers information, advice, support and guidance to young people (13-25 years), which is free and confidential. Workers are on hand to offer a safe and private space to talk, and specialists are around on certain days too if needed to discuss issues such as housing, sexual health, training and employment.

THE GREEN CENTRE

In May 2006 a broken paste table rescued from a car boot sale saw the birth of the Green Workshop, a mobile environmental project raising awareness about Global Warming and Climate Change. The workshop appeared on the streets of Brighton & Hove, at fairs and festivals and in schools and businesses.

In December 2008, the long search for a permanent home finally came to an end when the East Brighton Trust welcomed the project to take up residence at Manor Hill and hence a new chapter began. With the support of the Trust, The Green Centre opened in May 2009. Run by a small team of volunteers, the centre is developing a community garden, offering reduce / re-use / recycle opportunities and partnering with local community groups to encourage thoughtful and positive environmental actions.

In just 8 months, the centre has welcomed 1,451 visitors, re-used & recycled over 2 tonnes of materials and has recently been selected to be part of the Climate Connections project run by Brighton & Hove City Council, Oxfam and Brighton Peace and Environment Centre. This means the Green Centre will be linked with environmental initiatives throughout the world.

The Green Centre has flourished under the care and support of the Trust and benefits from a partnership which offers flexibility, vision and most importantly commitment.

VANIA MILLS PROJECT MANAGER, GLADRAGS

On 20th November 2009 local charity, Gladrag's Community Costume Resource, threw its doors open to a wide range of visitors, gathered to discover and celebrate this unique resource on offer to schools, community groups and city residents.

A grant and donation from East Brighton Trust ensured we were able to create a memorable event, with music, film and interactive performers setting the mood. Visitors readily took up the invitation to try out the wide-ranging costumes for themselves and to use their imagination to fill Gladrag's own version of the "fourth plinth", erected for the evening. We were also able to provide visitors with delicious refreshments, sourced from a local caterer, and send them off with the all new flyers and info to share with other groups.

Launching the event, Cllr Ann Norman, Mayor of Brighton & Hove said that the Resource was a veritable treasure trove, and Pippa Smith, from Brighton Dome & Festival highlighted that she had never come across a concept quite like Gladrag's in her 20 years experience in the Arts and how fortunate Brighton and Moulsecoomb are to have the charity on their doorstep.

Gladrag's is based at The Westergate Business Centre, which we have only been able to achieve with the immense generosity and support from the Trust as our landlord, including a great deal of practical help and advice from the Trust's own staff. Being truly settled in Moulsecoomb is a significant step for Gladrag's, having previously been forced to move premises four times in five years. We are also glad to be in the heart of the community that we want to reach.

Gladrag's began life as a small community project in 1994. We opened in Brighton in 2005 and are now run by a whole team of dedicated volunteers, amongst them costume practitioners and enthusiasts. We provide affordable costumes, topic boxes and related resources to a host of schools, community oriented projects, and amateur/ fringe theatre and arts organisations in the city, ensuring that those with limited funds can still experience the magic of costume.

The store holds 5000 costumes for adults and children. All Gladrag's resources are designed to support, promote and celebrate the use of costume amongst groups, as well as the recycling and re-use of clothing and fabrics. We offer assistance and info on keeping costumes affordable and sustainable, including supporting groups to make use of our costume-making resources and equipment themselves.

Earlier in the year, Gladrag's received an East Brighton Trust grant towards running its very first school workshops. We ran two highly successful workshops in Moulsecoomb Primary School:

Our Victorian Pin-hole Camera Workshop saw year 4 pupils learning about children's lives in Victorian times and the significance of capturing Victorian life on camera. Delving through historical costumes and artefacts, they created characters, which they then brought to life to style a Victorian photo shoot. Using the pinhole cameras they had constructed themselves, they had the opportunity to recreate turn of the century style photographs, and even develop their own pictures!

Then it was the turn of reception classes who celebrated Chinese New Year by creating their own Chinese dragon with the help of our practitioner. As part of the process they each decorated one of the many scales and dictated personal wishes to be written on the underside. They proudly paraded with their work in front of the rest of the school, demonstrating how creative they had been as the very youngest pupils.

The grant gave us the chance to share both our skills and resources in a new way, and we have plans to do this more, including taking part in local community events and celebrations.

LUCY RAYNER MOULSECOOMB PRIMARY SCHOOL

I am the Community/School Development Worker at Moulsecoomb Primary School and have supported several groups to apply for funding from The East Brighton Trust. For example, the Dads Aloud Project enabled fathers to go on an outing to Spring Barn Farm during October half-term with their children. It was a great day out and was an opportunity for fathers to meet other dads as well as have fun with their children. It has led to other ideas and activities and plans are underway for dads and their kids to make a go kart together. Other groups that have been funded are the Moulsecoomb Toddler Group, which used the funding for cookery sessions and the Four Seasons Art group for parents which meets every week at the school as well as the school community choir. The Trust also paid for the children's party to celebrate 10 years of the school.

After a heroic fundraising by our parents group the Trust gave us the 10k we needed to buy our new school minibus.

The application process is really easy - just a very simple form - and has been a great way for parents and community members to turn their ideas into reality and get more involved in the running of their groups.

EDI MANDALA

FATHERS' DEVELOPMENT / PARENT SUPPORT WORKER FROM FAMILY LINK

On behalf of all the group members, Lucy Rayner (Moulescoomb Primary School), Alistair Mayor (Super Dads) and myself, I am contacting you to say a big 'thank you' to East Brighton Trust for the £300 grant you gave to us for the Dads Aloud Trip out. We have listed below some of the reasons why you should feel assured that the funding was well placed and will have an ongoing effect not only for children but parents too.

What a strange sight it was! 20+ men standing around, waiting with their children, all outside the school gates, what could they be doing? Giving their partners a rest and taking them out together with other men who care for children, that's what! There were many fathers, grandfathers and one or two boyfriends that were looking after the children whilst their mothers got some free time to relax. We were taken to the farm by a big yellow bus that ran on chip fat and the day was slightly overcast but lifted by the joy on the children's faces. The spaces and activities in the barn included making pumpkin faces, audio / visual learning tools, and plenty of outdoor activities such as climbing walls, cycle tracks, rip wire farm animals which looked to be healthy as well as approachable

During the snacks time we spent some useful time planning how to take the group forward and we were all inspired by the possibilities.

Off the back of the visit we had a really successful event for fathers and kids at the school a few weeks after, it involved building a roundhouse in the school grounds as well as fun activities.

SUE CRAIG CLOWD 9/KNITTING THE MAP

Can I say how very grateful we have been for all the support that the Trust has shown us. When we lost our office and storage space we thought that was the end of our little group. We'd been going for 5 years and done pretty well we thought, having created some amazing stuff in our little bit of East Brighton. But we have had a good look at our strengths and our weaknesses and have resolved, for the next year at least, to forge ahead and keep going.

The Trust kindly funded Knitting the Map to allow for the purchase of the essential specialist equipment necessary for dyeing our spun wool. It was all put to very good use in a demonstration in the churchyard at Stanmer – the Dead and the Dyeing – where phenomenal colours were achieved and were strung between a headstone and the ancient yew tree to the delight of visitors. By popular demand, we will be repeating and expanding the event at Springwatch this year.

Clowd 9 also received Trust funding to provide card-making, spinning and sewing taster sessions at the Green Centre and to purchase a spinning wheel for the Green Centre. This wheel is on display in the window and is put to good use every Friday morning by members of the newly formed Brighton Spinning Group.

Thanks to the Trust, we have also extended the reach of our winter lanterns. Members of Clowd 9 ran two workshops at Stanmer Church to create lanterns for each of the cottages in the village. We were joined by volunteers from the Stanmer Preservation Society, the City Rangers and Moulsec-oomb based art group Metamorphosis in making Christmas wreathes for the cottage doors and table decorations using little logs that the forester had pre-prepared for us.

Finally, once again our lanterns decorated Moulsec-oomb, Whitehawk, Manor Farm and the Green Centre over Christmas.

OTHER PROJECTS

Brilliant Reading received £300 towards an additional volunteer to help children with their reading "We have recruited, trained and introduced 2 new volunteers to St Marks Primary School in Manor Farm. The school already has other Brilliant Reading volunteers working successfully over the past year and the Head is keen to increase the number as help in this area is very much needed. Each volunteer works regularly with individual children to help them improve their literacy skills as well as to increase their confidence and self esteem. One to one sessions really seem to work and children's reading skills improve, sometimes quite dramatically. Teachers often notice a change in the child. Comments from staff include 'great improvement and the child really looks forward to reading now', 'reads plenty of books now and have seen a huge improvement in attitude in class', 'much more confident and motivated'.

Children enjoy the sessions which are fun as volunteers vary the literacy activities. Comments from the various children helped last year include: 'I used to miss out words but now I don't', 'since the reading help I feel better about reading out loud in class' and 'I really like my volunteer and enjoy talking to her as she listens to me, and I like reading with her.'

Thanks to the East Brighton Trust another 6 – 8 children in Whitehawk will be helped by an interested, educated adult who can tailor the weekly sessions to the needs of each individual."

Falmer Falcons FC Under 9s

Falmer Falcons FC Under 9's received £300 towards football kit and equipment. They told us "The club successfully raised enough money to purchase new inflatable goals, training t-shirts, track suits, football kits and rain coats. As well as the grant the club organised a presentation evening to raise money and, of course, all importantly present the children with trophies for all their hard work. The club was also able to obtain sponsorship towards their kit. Since applying for the grant the number of children who train for the club has risen to about 18. They took part in a number of tournaments in and out of Brighton over the summer and since the Sunday League started three weeks ago they have enough players for an A & B team."

The Kemp Town Gardening Club received £300 which will they spend on their annual summer trip. They told us about last years visit to Sissinghurst gardens "Our annual outing is much looked forward to by many residents as it gives us an opportunity to get to know our neighbours better, have a good chat and enjoy a day out. Also many of our members are elderly, some with limited mobility, who would otherwise find it difficult, if not impossible, to visit a place like Sissinghurst. Twenty-four of us from Bennett Road, Bristol Street, Princes Terrace and Flimwell Close joined the outing. The weather remained fine and those who were well organised enjoyed their picnics, the rest of us sampled the National Trust café. A good time was had by all."

Greenfingers Organic Garden

received £250 to buy tools and gloves to help build a garden in Plaistow Close "We also used some of the funding for an open day to make small butterflies and other things to decorate the children's area."

GreenFingers Organic Garden

The Trust funded a trip to a fruit farm for the Bangladeshi Women's Group

Bangladeshi Woman's Group

Last summer the group went on a trip to a garden centre and fruit/vegetable picking farm in Worthing. The group hired a coach and almost 40 female residents and their children attended. The photo shows what a fun day they all had and how beneficial this grant was, not only for supporting a multi-cultural event but also as it allowed residents to visit somewhere new and mingle with their neighbours. This funding has gone a long way to reducing isolation and encouraging shared experiences amongst Black and Minority Ethnic residents.

Trust Funds Primary School Minibuses

In 2009 an Impact Grants Programme was established as an annual one-off payment to a community group or organisation that would make a big difference to the East Brighton Trust community. The first beneficiaries of this programme were the 3 primary schools located in the Trust area; all 3 schools were individually awarded an Impact Grant of £10,000.

The purpose of these Impact Grants was to enable the schools to purchase a minibus, as having their own minibus would allow their pupils a greater opportunity to go on trips and outings, enhancing both the curriculum and extra-curriculum activities at the schools. Moulsecoomb Primary was able to match fund their Impact Grant using money raised by their Parents Group to purchase their own minibus, whilst Whitehawk Primary and St Mark's CE Primary combined their Impact Grants to purchase a single minibus shared between them.

Busy at the Big Breakthrough Club

Big Breakthrough Club

The East Brighton Trust grants have helped the Big Breakthrough Club continue to run at St. David's Hall in Whitehawk. The club has been running since 1994 and is an open club for boys and girls aged between 10-14. The club is staffed by local volunteers and parents, young members, ex-members and overseas visitors doing a one year placement in England. Some have come from East Africa, South Africa, the Cameroons, Bolivia and India. Visiting speakers also come to share aspects of their lives with the boys and girls.

An offshoot of the club has been the establishment of an IT Club on Friday nights. The children learn how to write and design their own magazine and see it published. After they have completed the course they are given software so they can continue to learn at home. In the past computers have been obtained through the club for children without them.

All the volunteers, who are all Moulsecomb residents, were supervised by Julian Rebera the Pastor of the church.
