Business Mums raising funds for Breast Cancer

Touched by the plight of one of their networking group members Joanne Dewberry (29) and Laura Morris (28) decided something had to be done.

“The whole idea is to raise funds for this important charity, through what we do best NETWORKING’ says Laura Morris, Charminster, Partner of Networking Mummies. 'What makes this Fashion Show unique is that every aspect has come from small local businesses 75% of which are run by mums. The hair, make up, clothing even the models.'

Joanne Dewberry, Three Legged Cross, Partner of Networking Mummies, says ‘The power of networking never stops amaing me. All this event has ben collated through our members and networking. Women are wonderful, especailly mums, when we all come together we can achieve anything.'

Networking Mummies (Dorset) will also be launching their Dorset Business Mums Journal at the event, which is being distributed and launched into Mothercare in early March 2010.

The ‘In the Pink’ Fashion Show is being held at The Royal Bath Hotel in Bournemouth on Sunday the 21st March 2010 at 7pm. Royal Bath have also sponsored the event. Tickets cost £12.50 each and include a glass of In the Pink Cocktail on arrival plus Goody Bag. There is the oppportunity to buy most of the items within the show as well as other stalls so a great chance for some shopping. So if you fancy a girls night out for charity this is not to be missed!
