What others have said

“Roger has wonderful sense of comic timing, when a twist of the head or raised eyebrow can add volumes to the dialogue. And in dramatic roles, he is equally adept at spelling 'chilling' with a glance or a posture. He is a pleasure to work with, positive, encouraging and able to deliver a constructive critique without seeming judgmental. His own writing, his dialogue in particular, is witty and expressive, and makes you think 'I wish I'd written that!'”

Helen Brady, screenwriter

“... reliable and supportive, providing a very good sounding board for ideas and taking on challenging roles by conducting his own preparation. Roger puts himself out and isn't afraid of stepping up to the plate when it really matters. He's the perfect team member and I wouldn't hesitate in recommending his skills and services.”

David Jinks, Fridge Productions

“... a gifted actor but also a delight to work with. He is very versatile and has been cast as everything from a corpse to mad scientist performing experiments on vampires. Highly recommended.”

Christopher Pinches, Entanglement Productions
