

SAM

NO!!!!

MOLLY

This isn't possible. There were words, private things. How could she have known all that?

SAM

Tell him! Tell him she knew "ditto."

DET. BEIDERMAN

They've got a million cons. A lot of times they read the obits. All she had to do was see the word "banker". Hell, they even go through your garbage to find things they can use--letters, old papers. People want so much to believe. They're vulnerable and grieving. They don't need much. I bet you threw stuff out, huh? It could have been anything. What about that underwear she knew all about? Green underwear. I'll bet she zeroed right in on that.

SAM

No! No you can't do this. Please!

(MOLLY exits the police station and begins walking in the rain. SAM follows after her. She is distraught. SAM wants to comfort her but can't.)

[MUSIC CONTINUES INTO NEXT SCENE]