

PARISH NEWSLETTER

December 2017 & January 2018

for the villages of Aldwark, Alne, Flawith,
Tholthorpe, Tollerton and Youlton

There is now a vacancy for the Priest in Charge of the Alne Parish, although Carmel Gittens is still with us. She can be contacted by telephone on 01423 360702 or by e-mail on carmel-gittens@live.co.uk. However please try contacting the church wardens as the first point of contact – a full list of wardens is provided on page 13 of this Parish Newsletter.

PEACE AND GOODWILL TO ALL

Our lives today often seem to be spent between rushing and waiting. We rush to the airport only to queue up at the check-in desk. We rush to pre-Christmas/post-Christmas sales and wait to pay at the checkout. Waiting involves a necessary slowing down as well as hope of fulfilment.

The Advent season (Advent means 'coming' or 'arrival') that begins the Church's year summons us to slow down, even if our lives seem even more hectic than normal; it also calls us to live in hope and real expectation. Usually we think of the coming of Jesus only in terms of his birth at Christmas. But there are actually three ways in which to think of his coming: past, present and future. Jesus came as a human person like us when he was born in Bethlehem more than 2,000 years ago. Jesus still comes into our own personal histories today, through prayer, through the sacraments, to those willing to receive him. Finally, Jesus will come at the consummation of history to judge the world.

Through the readings from Scripture during Advent, the Church reminds us that we won't be able to celebrate the anniversary of his coming to us at Bethlehem properly, or receive him into our hearts through prayer and the sacraments worthily, unless we're prepared to meet him at the final judgement. To celebrate the joy of Jesus' birth fully, we must live each and every day prepared to meet the Lord Jesus whenever he comes.

This Advent God calls to us through the voices of the prophet Isaiah, King David, John the Baptist, Paul, Peter and Mary of Nazareth. They speak urgently to us.

Through the words of the prophet Isaiah, God assures the people that he is always their redeemer and nearest kin, a God who has never been absent from them, a God who is always ready and waiting to be found, even by those who have given up looking for God. 'Here I am, here I am' God also calls to us this Advent.

We also learn from the book of Isaiah that God is repelled by injustice and violence and summons people to turn and walk a different way. How unrealistic Isaiah's vision seems when appalling violence and war still seem to prevail. Yet Isaiah's messages were proclaimed in a no less difficult time, when the small and insignificant nation of Israel was threatened with destruction by the superpower of its day.

During this Advent may I recommend a deeper engagement with the book of Isaiah through study and prayer, perhaps for ten minutes each day, letting his words refresh your hearts. And then there is the voice of John the Baptist, a voice that refuses to be silenced. Herod Antipas tried to do just that by having him beheaded; yet here we are, centuries later, listening to him. John the Baptist stands before us, blocking out sentimentality and reminding us that Advent is less about 'baby Jesus' and more about the adult; Coming One, and the mystery of his life, death and resurrection that is offered as a means of interpreting our own lives.

John does not deliver his message in the second temple or anywhere else in the Holy city of Jerusalem, but by the River Jordan. At a busy crossing place, so significant in the history of Israel, John urges people to cross over into God's forgiveness through the waters of a ritual baptism of repentance. During this Advent the Baptist invites us to engage in an honest assessment of the water - not of the Jordan, but of our baptism - and to an honest examination of our conscience. Advent is the time to ask ourselves just how faithful are we towards Christ Jesus into whom we were baptised?

Finally, we are brought up short by Mary of Nazareth - a powerless woman in a patriarchal world; a poor woman in a highly stratified society; found to be pregnant before she is married to her husband. Mary's God; our God, is full of surprises, always taking the initiative, turning our expectations upside down. This Advent this humble woman challenges us to live lives of attentiveness to the stirrings of God at work in the world, lives that are obedient to the call of God so that we can stand upright when he comes in glory at the end of time.

Every blessing for Christmas

News from Alne Church

The Vacancy – The process of appointing a new vicar always seems to take time and currently the wardens think that we are unlikely to see our new vicar before the middle of 2018. In the meantime we thank Carmel Gittens for her consistent support. We are also grateful to a number of retired clergy who are taking some of our services; especially Canon Chris Hawthorn and Canon Robert Law. We continue to share our fourth Sunday service with our Methodist friends.

Christmas services – As usual these will include the Carol Service (9th December at 7.00p.m.), Christingle (Christmas Eve at 4.00p.m.) and Christmas Day (10.30a.m.). However, we are sorry that we will not be holding Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve; nor will there be a service on Sunday 31st December.

Helpers – We are very fortunate to have so many volunteers who carry out flower arranging and who help with church cleaning. A very big ‘Thank you’ to everyone! We offer our special thanks to Steve Gilholm who edits the Newsletter and to Alan Daniels for all his work in the churchyard. We also thank the dedicated Duke of Edinburgh Award students (Alex, Fizzy and Thomas) who have worked regularly in the churchyard over recent months.

Concert 11th November – Thanks to Helen and Simon Dawson and Emma Hewison. We had an excellent concert with a most varied and enjoyable programme plus lovely refreshments. Thanks to all who came and to those who contributed the refreshments.

Sunday Newspapers – We are pleased to learn that the plan to use the church as a collection point for Sunday newspapers is working well.

Christingle Makers – urgent call!

For the Christingle Service at Alne we need 250 Christingles. If you would be happy to make some please contact Carol Glen (838016), Peter Cove (838346) or e-mail office@abchurches.org.uk. We will supply the candles and ribbon, if you could supply the oranges, sweets or dried fruit, and cocktail sticks.

All best wishes for Christmas and the New Year!

Flower Rotas

We are extremely grateful to all those who continue to help with flower arranging and church cleaning. There are still some vacancies if anyone wishes to help – please contact Jean Teasdale (838431) for flower arranging and Gill Charlton (838325) regards cleaning.
