

LEARNING CHORDS

Simple major and minor chords (called triads) are made up of three different notes. For example, C major is made up of the notes C, E and G and A minor is made up of the notes A, C and E. When you play a chord, sometimes these three notes occur more than once.

Major Chords:

Usually a major chord is named just by its letter, e.g: A.

Minor Chords:

Usually a minor chord is named by its letter followed by 'm', e.g:
Am
