19. G halt & salute

For the halt dismount and lead. Stirrups must be run up or crossed over the saddle, reins must be taken over head and horse must be lead from the near side. When running up/crossing over stirrups this must be done safely. So the right stirrup may be run up or crossed over whilst the rider is still in the saddle, allowing them to dismount to the left and then just deal with the left stirrup, so not having to go around the horse. It is ok if you choose to do both stirrups when dismounted.
