UK SISTERS TAKE ON THE CBD WORLD WITH THE LAUNCH OF THEIR CBD CHOCOLATE NETWORK MARKETING OPPORTUNITY

UK based serial entrepreneur sisters Angela Spencer and Tina Hammett are taking on the CBD and Network Marketing world with their award-nominated CBD chocolate brand Cannabeenz.

“What we are doing is highly unusual,” explains Angela, “both CBD and Network Marketing are big in the USA but not so much in the UK, we’re looking to change that.”

Pre-launched in March this year, the UK made CBD chocolate beans are proving a hit and have been invited for awards submissions from Janey Lee Grace’s Platinum Awards to The World CBD Awards.

“We’ve worked hard to ensure we are offering an ethical yet strong UK based network marketing opportunity to the market,” Angela enthuses, “we take our beenz everyday ourselves, so they had to be organic, vegan and top quality. We started this business because of the amazing benefits Tina and I had from CBD Oil, we just couldn’t stand the taste, hence putting it into chocolate for ourselves, with the great by-product of better absorption.”

After that fateful day less than a year ago, friends and family also clamoured for their chocolate CBD beenz, however, they soon realised their chocolate expertise wasn’t up to scratch to go global.

“We teamed up with amazing Chocolatier Paul Jones (author of “CBD-licious”) and all our products are hand-made by his team right here in the UK,” Angela notes, “using better than fair-trade, top quality chocolate and zero plastic in our packing.”

This gives cannabeenz a unique opportunity to add the UK as a major player to the emerging CBD world stage.

“We wanted to offer others the ability to build a business too and benefit from the exploding CBD market,” Angela said, “it’s why we chose Network Marketing as our route to market and we’re very proud to be a British company in the CBD arena.”
