Help with New Study Groups

Study Groups are organised by members, and not by the Committee. The system works well when we make use of the interests of the whole membership. Please think of ways in which you could help develop the choice of subjects in this U3A:-

Can you provide a venue for a Study Group you join for up to 10 members?

Do you have a specialist skill which would help us start a new group (e.g. a language?)

Please give details _____

Would you be willing to act as the Group Contact for a Study Group (which involves carrying out the admin, such as maintaining its membership list, circulating dates etc? This does NOT mean teaching the group.)

Thank you!

Choosing your Study Groups

Please write down 3 or 4 Study Groups from the lists below that are your priority. If there is already a group in that subject to join you should apply to the Group Contact whose details are set out in the Handbook.

If it is a new topic we will try to bring members together to form a new group.
