Appendix A 5 characteristics of a cultivated allotment plot

1. The plot is tidy and relatively weed free
This means that tools are tidied away, rubbish is removed and pathways are clear. Every plot has the odd weed or two and it is not expected that the plot is kept totally weed free, but if the weeds and grass are beginning to produce seeds and/or hide the plots, the plot is in need of attention.
2. The plants on the plot are healthy
Planting should be ordered and organised to ensure a good crop. Plants should be watered regularly, pruned as necessary and removed if they are failing or diseased.
3. Plants are yielding a crop
Healthy plants will produce a good crop. In season, plants should be producing fruit, vegetables or flowers. Not all plants will produce in abundance.
4. Crops are harvested
The harvest is not left on the plants to rot. Fruit and vegetables are picked and windfalls tidied.
5. After the harvest
Plants are dug out and the ground prepared for the new season. At the end of the season, plants which have finished cropping should be dug out or pruned back, ready for winter.
