Lizzie Houghton

Lizzie Houghton trained as a fashion designer and is now a renowned felt maker, specialising in wearable art.

A love of colour, pattern, textures, and natural forms combined with luxury natural fabrics are Lizzie Houghton's greatest inspiration. She makes jackets, dresses, hats, scarves and accessories often incorporating her hand-dyed silk fibres and fleece. Her felt is of a fine drape-able quality and sumptuous colours.

Lizzie is now based in Penzance in Cornwall but has taught her skills throughout the UK, Europe, America, Australia and New Zealand. Her beautiful work is in collections all over the world.

She is the author of 'Creative Felting', and the acclaimed Batsford book 'Felting Fashion' which has just been re-published in paperback.
